building. Nichwitz ran through the hall and escaped.

The second attempt was made upon A. Schlesinger, Nichwitz's employer. He was accosted in the same manner. One of the men struck at him. He ran into the street calling for a policeman, and the men disappeared.

The attempt at roblery was a very bold one, as dozens of persons were passing the building. Nichwitz had just started through the swinging doors when the men accosted him. They demanded his money and at the same time grabbed at him just as he started to run. Schlesinger went through the same experience, except that he ran into the street and called for an officer. He says the men disappeared around the corner into Chestnut street.

When Mrs. Stewart opened the door they rished in and selsed Wittenberg, who, hearing the woman's screams, was aroping his way through the hall. The blind man, who is strongly built, struggled flervely and in the fight upset a kettle of tar the visitors had brought.

The crowd finally overpowered him and carried him, struggling, out of doors and applied a coat of tar. Then the mob departed.

RIVER CONGRESS AT OMAHA. November 5 Is Date of Improve ment Convention.

Municipalities and public organizations tre invited to rend delegates to the Missouri Liver Improvement Convention, to be held in Omaha, Neb., on November The convention is the result of the work of Henry T. Clarke of Omaha, who appointed delegate-at-large to the fourrepointed delegate-at-large to the four-teenth annual session of the Transmissis-size! Congress, held at Seattle, in August. The question to be discussed pertains to permanently protecting the cities, towns and lands in the vallers of the Missouri and Kansas rivers from floods. The dis-nates of last spring are held to be good cause for immediate endeavor to enlist the aid of the Federal Government.
